Ruskin – Tree Study

Concessions: If you are able to claim state benefits (not Child Tax Credit) or have a gross household income of less than £25,521 per year, you may be entitled to a 50% discount – please enquire.

Who is it for?

Anyone with little or no knowledge of drawing who would like to develop their skills and personal style.

What will I learn?

Each session will involve a new starting point offering a different perspective and experience through drawing. Sessions are not aimed at achieving photorealistic representation, rather developing confidence to get started, make observations and manipulate materials.

You will learn to use tonal variations, consider light, shadow and space, vary and incorporate mark making, use different materials to draw with and different surfaces to draw upon. You will amass knowledge of formal elements surrounding composition, perspective and scale/proportion. Most studies will be taken directly from still-life, with the possibility of an occasional life model – if we can source one (or find a clothed volunteer)!

Course outcomes:

- Make a series of drawings based on observation
- Gain knowledge on the formal elements of drawing
- Learn how to use different media to draw with
- Learn how to use mark making and tone
- Make decisions regarding composition, scale & perspective
- Gain knowledge/insight on artist's utilisation of drawing

What should I bring?

An apron, optional a folder for handouts, optional own drawing materials. You will also need to bring your own mug if you would like hot drinks during class.

What could I do after this? Who delivers it?

Creative courses at RALSS continue through the academic year and learners progress by learning new skills and techniques along the way. Advise will be offered regarding other courses and opportunities to practice drawing and extend experience.

This course is delivered by Sara Budzik, who has a BA and Masters degree in Fine Art and has taught general art & design for over 20 years in various settings.
